ANNOUNCEMENTS

KSDE FHSU Joint NGSS Workshop

The Fort Hays State University College of Education recently partnered with the Kansas Department of Education (KSDE) to provide professional development to Kansas educators around the theme “A Deeper Dive into the 3 Dimensions of the NGSS”. The Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) are some of the best but perhaps most sophisticated and complex of the content standards utilized by teachers to guide teaching.

The workshop, co-led by Dr. Gary Andersen, FHSU assistant professor in the Advanced Education Programs department and Lizette Burks, Science Education Consultant for KSDE, was held at the Sternberg Museum, on January 25. The workshop provided approximately 60 teachers with a full day of exploring and applying the NGSS framework of disciplinary core ideas, practices of science and engineering and cross cutting concepts to teaching science. Teachers, administrators, and Noyce Scholars from around the region were in attendance.

Two pictures from the workshop are below

Rolling Application Announcement for Open Textbook Grant Program

Forsyth Library and the Open Educational Resource (OER) Committee would like to remind you that the Open Textbook Grant Program is now accepting applications on a rolling basis, whenever faculty feel the need for funding. With funding provided by a generous donation from Richard and Delores Fischli through the FHSU Foundation, the Program offers grants of $500-$3,000 for faculty who want to write, adapt, or add supplementary materials to an openly licensed textbook. To learn more, please read the Program FAQ, located at <http://www.fhsu.edu/oer/getinvolved/>.

We will be holding four information sessions to answer questions about the Program throughout the semester in FL133:

- 2:00pm on Tuesday, February 20
- 1:00pm on Thursday, March 15
- 3:30pm on Monday, April 2
- 2:30pm on Wednesday, April 25

If you are unable to attend an information session or want to learn more, please contact Claire Nickerson, Learning Initiatives & OER Librarian, at x4543 or cenickerson@fhsu.edu.

Yearly password changes for TigerNetID – coming soon!

Hey, remember when I put an article in TigerDaily, telling you that we're going to start enforcing yearly password changes on February 1? Well, that's still happening for all faculty and staff (including adjuncts and temporary employees). You will start receiving automated emails telling you that your password will expire on February 1 unless you change it before then. These emails will come from FHSU Tech Services [<mailto:donotreply@fhsu.edu>] and all links will go to fhsu.edu web sites. The directions for resetting your password are here: <http://www.fhsu.edu/tigertech/TigerNetID-Password-Reset/>.

We'll begin enforcing the yearly password change requirement for all current and former students on February 15, 2018. I'll send a general email to all students with an activated TigerNetID early this week, and then turn on the automated emails for students. .se accounts for student employees will be included with students.

Keep reading for more details (most of this is a repeat from the announcement in December):

According to the FHSU Information Security Policy, passwords must be changed at least every 360 days. We will begin enforcing this for all faculty and staff TigerNetID passwords on February 1, 2018. If your TigerNetID password is more than 360 days old on February 1, it will expire and you will be forced to choose a new password to login. It will be much easier and much more convenient for you to change your password before February 1. Follow the directions here: <http://www.fhsu.edu/tigertech/TigerNetID-Password-Reset/>.

When will we begin requiring annual password resets?

Faculty, adjunct faculty, staff, people who are treated like employees: February 1
Current and former students, as well as .se accounts for student employees:
February 15

Who has to do this?

This applies to everyone with a TigerNetID. Remember that your TigerNetID is the account you use to access FHSU Outlook email, FHSU Gmail, TigerTracks, TigerCentral, Blackboard, Workday, and most other FHSU technology resources. Yes, that includes students, alumni, adjuncts, temporary employees, people who don't technically work for FHSU but still have a TigerNetID, and every single other person with a TigerNetID.

No, you can't be exempt from this requirement because you're retiring soon, don't use your TigerNetID very often, have a very secure password that you don't want to change, or any other reason.

How do I know how old my password is?

Unless you specifically remember changing it during or after the Fall 2017 semester, just assume that you need to change it now.

We will be sending out some emails about password changes. We realize that criminals send out phishing emails telling you to change your password, activate your account, verify your account, etc., so we will follow very specific guidelines with these emails. You need to verify that the email is real before taking any action.

The emails will always come from an @fhsu.edu email address. Because email addresses can be faked and email accounts can be compromised, you shouldn't trust an email just based on the address. You should still look at where the links go and check for other signs of phishing.

The links will always go to an FHSU web page. The address will start with <http://www.fhsu.edu>, <https://www.fhsu.edu>, [http://(another]http://(another word).fhsu.edu, or [https://(another]https://(another word).fhsu.edu.

We will always spell out web addresses so you can clearly see where they go, or you can copy and paste the text into your browser.

We will do this: Click here to reset your password: <https://password.fhsu.edu>

We will not do this: Click here to reset your password

The only web site where you can change your TigerNetID password is <https://password.fhsu.edu>. If you receive an email that directs you anywhere else, it is a fraud.

We will always post a news article on the Tech Services web site that describes the emails being sent about password changes. Check <http://www.fhsu.edu/technology> to verify that we really are sending out emails.

We will also put information in TigerDaily.

TigerTech will be informed of emails before they go out, so you may call them to verify that an email was sent. You can also contact Jessica States, but honestly, if more than a handful of people do this, her inbox explodes and she has a hard time replying to each person in a timely manner. So please check our web page first.

We will always identify that we are from Technology Services, Tech Services, or TigerTech. If the email says it's from IT, Information Technology, Help Desk, Admin, Email Admin, etc... it's a fraud.

We will never, ever, ever, ever ask you to reply to an email with your password. You should never, under any circumstances, send a password out via email. Seriously, we will never ask you to do this. Ever. Got it? Good.

The FHSU Information Security Policy contains important rules and guidelines for passwords. Some important excerpts:

“The password used to access FHSU systems (e.g., your TigerNetID password) must not be used for non-FHSU systems or applications such as online shopping, banking, etc.”

Criminals steal passwords from one place and then try them at others, or (even worse) post the passwords online for anyone to see.

“Passwords must never be shared with other System Users or any other individual.”

This includes administrative assistants and graduate assistants! If someone needs access to your email or files, Tech Services can give their account access. Contact TigerTech if you want to grant someone this access.

Remember that anyone with your password has access to your Social Security Number, the bank account number used for direct deposit (and access to change that number!), all of your email and files, and tons of other personal information.

Remember that you are responsible for any action taken with your user account. Read the entire policy here: <http://www.fhsu.edu/policies/information-security/>.

Tips for creating a secure and memorable password:

<http://www.fhsu.edu/tigertech/password-security/>.

If you need to write down your password until you have it memorized:

Put it somewhere very safe, such as in your wallet or in a locked drawer. The edge of your monitor, under your keyboard, under your mouse pad, an unlocked drawer, and your office wall are not safe places.

Just write the password down, not your username or what it's for. This makes it slightly more secure if the note falls out of your wallet or otherwise wanders off.

Destroy the note after you have your password memorized. Use a crosscut shredder, a secure shred bin from Document Resources, or fire (safely, of course. Don't burn your office or house down).

Thank you for reading this whole thing. You get a digital gold star! You're up to 2 digital gold stars if you read this the last time I sent it out, plus a bonus star if you've already changed your password.

New Articles on the Tiger Learn Blog: 3 Minutes With and New Faculty Spotlight

The Tiger Learn Blog has a new series and a new article on the continuing series Faculty Spotlight.

The Tiger Learn Blog is happy to announce a new article series: 3 Minutes With. In this series, faculty highlight specific technology enhanced learning tools in a three-minute video. In the first article of the series, Nathan Riedel discusses Akindi and how it was utilized in administering exams. The article can be found at this link: <http://tigerlearn.fhsu.edu/3-mins-with-test-post/>.

In the new Faculty Spotlight, we highlight Mr. Jeremy Ryan on his use of SoftChalk in his virtual Agricultural Accounting course. The article provides a great example of how to create interactive learning activities in your course. The article can be found at this link: <http://tigerlearn.fhsu.edu/faculty-spotlight-jeremy-ryan/>.

If you would like to create your own 3 Minutes With or you would like to recommend someone for the Faculty Spotlight series, please contact Nathan Riedel at nlriedel@fhsu.edu.

Computer and Email Accounts for Student Employees

Technology Services has implemented a new, streamlined procedure for requesting TigerNetIDs for student employees and graduate assistants. Simply send an email to RequestSEAccount@fhsu.edu and include the following information for each employee:

- First and last name
- 8-digit FHSU ID
- Department
- Job title (student employee, grad assistant, etc)
- List of folders on the N: drive that this person should have access to (if applicable)
- List of shared mailboxes that this person should have access to (if applicable)
- Additional services needed (PowerFAIDS, ImageNow, etc)

You may include multiple employees in a single email.

Your email will trigger a new ticket in our ticketing system, KACE. The ticket will get assigned to whoever is making new accounts (Jessica States for now). You'll receive an email with instructions once the accounts are created.

Allow 3 business days for TigerNetIDs to be generated. If additional services are needed, allow 2 extra business days.

What is a .se account?

Student employees and graduate assistants may be assigned a second TigerNetID to use while they're at work. We add ".se" to the end of their regular TigerNetID to come up with their username. "se" stands for student employee.

Who needs a .se account?

Any student employee or graduate assistant who will use FHSU computers or computing resources as part of their job at FHSU needs a .se account. If they only need the computer to manage their time in Workday, then they don't need a .se account.

What is the .se account used for?

This account can be used for Windows login, Outlook email, Cascade (used to edit FHSU web pages), Lotus Notes workflow, and WorkDay workflow. Student employees need to use their student TigerNetID (username without ".se" at the end) to login to WorkDay.

Why should my student employees use FHSU Outlook email for work instead of their personal email or student Gmail account?

When someone leaves FHSU, we must make sure they no longer have access to any internal or sensitive information. There are also times when we need to retain an individual's work-related emails after their employment ends, or times when we need to grant a supervisor access to an active employee's emails. We can't do any of that if an employee is using a personal email account, including their student Gmail account.

It's also a good practice to separate your work and personal email to protect your own privacy.

What do I do when a student employee is no longer employed at FHSU?

Tech Services is notified when people are terminated in Workday. We remove access within 24 hours of the last day of employment, or within 24 hours of when we're notified, if notified after the last day of employment. If you are terminating employment with cause or have other reasons to make sure access is revoked immediately, you may email or call Jessica States, Aaron Roe, or Trey Lynd.

President's Distinguished Scholar Award Call for Nominations

The President's Distinguished Scholar Committee encourages nominations for this year's awards process. This is your opportunity to acknowledge the outstanding work of colleagues.

Written nominations and/or indications of interest are due to the Office of the Provost by March 1.

Award eligibility, criteria and application process are available on the Provost's Awards page:

http://www.fhsu.edu/academic/provost/documents/presidents_scholar_criteria/index.pdf.

Writing Center: Class Visits

At the Writing Center, we work with undergraduate and graduate students on any writing project at any stage in the process. We are also happy to work with faculty and staff.

Please let us know if you would like to schedule a visit from one of our representatives.

We offer two kinds of visits:

1. Introduction to Services: We will discuss our services, show students how to register and make an appointment, and emphasize the benefits of multiple writing center sessions.
2. Workshops: We have a few readymade workshops (e.g., APA, introduction to scientific writing) and may be able to consult with you to offer a brief workshop specific to your needs.

If you would like to schedule a Writing Center visit, please contact Dr. Amanda Fields at ajfields@fhsu.edu and provide the following information: date, course or event, instructor or organization, location, time, number of participants, and specific request.

KWEC Hosts Bat Fair

Sunday, February 11; 2:00pm to 4:00pm

Kansas Wetlands Education Center; Cheyenne Bottoms, KS

Small bats, big bats, brown bats, red bats, all will be explored during KWEC's Bat Fair on Feb. 11, from 2 – 4 p.m. Free activities are planned for this day devoted to one of man's best friends. Discover more about these fascinating creatures in a fun atmosphere that includes something for all ages.

The fair begins with a presentation by FHSU Sternberg Museum of Natural History Zoologist Curtis Schmidt, coauthor of Bats of Kansas. Kids can make their own bat, complete a scavenger hunt in a “cave”, compare bat wing spans, and “capture” and measure their own bats. Information on building your own bat box will be available as well as several bat specimens to view.

The Kansas Wetlands Education Center is a branch of the College of Science Technology and Mathematics and is located at Cheyenne Bottoms, near Great Bend, KS. The Center is open Tues-Sat 9am-5pm and Sun 1-5pm.

Admission is free.

Personal Branding & DECA Career Development Conference for FHSU Students

Friday, February 2; 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Memorial Union, FHSU

We welcome students from all majors to join the Department of Applied Business Students and Collegiate DECA for a great day of professional development! We ask faculty and staff to please share these opportunities with your students to assist them in being the best marketable students for your areas.

The Personal Branding conference is free and will be going on in between the Collegiate DECA competition so students can participate and receive the benefits that both offer. The conference is a series of five 30-minute sessions designed to offer students tools to best market/brand themselves to their desired industries. Session titles include Personal Branding and Social Media, How LinkedIn Can Grow Your Career, Networking/Elevator Pitch, Navigating a Career 101, and Behavior-Based Interviews and Tips. Students will have the opportunity to receive professional headshots and assistance with their resumes. It is come and go, so students can attend one or all of the sessions. Great door prizes!

The Collegiate DECA competition is individual and team case study competitions open to all students covering different areas of business including Sports & Entertainment Marketing, to Travel & Tourism, Finance, Accounting, Retail and more! Excellent professional development opportunity as this experience provides students a chance to think on their feet, which serves them well beyond the competition, including when it is time to interview for a job!
